STACC COURSE

STACC will provide candidates with a solid foundation to enable them to create, set up, facilitate and deliver highly effective and realistic simulated scenarios.

Using the ATACC mindset and approach, developed over 25 years, candidates will learn how to greatly enhance their training delivery and get the most out of their training equipment and environment.

The course focuses on improving realism and immersion to successfully deliver learning objectives and develop individual and team communication, performance and resilience.

Throughout the course candidates will produce their own scenarios which will be demonstrated and tested by their candidate group, aiming to build their confidence to increase the complexity, scale and fidelity of the simulation.

STACC is about training trainers to reduce external costs for organisations, whilst ensuring that they are still able to internally deliver high standards of realistic simulation training.
